

ENNIS-BROWN HOUSE

Los Angeles

ENNIS-BROWN HOUSE

Los Angeles

- Frank Lloyd Wright designed the Ennis-Brown House as the largest of his four concrete block residences in Los Angeles. Built in 1924, this house was part of the architectural experiment to construct housing out of inexpensive materials.
- The Ennis-Brown House was placed on the National Register of Historic Places on October 14, 1971 and, in 1993, designated California Historical Landmark No. 1011.

ENNIS-BROWN HOUSE

Los Angeles

Project Scope:

- Many original FLW designed concrete blocks are deteriorated or have suffered earthquake damage. The project includes determining the most appropriate method to accurately reproduce block units and then restore and reconstruct exterior walls.

Grant Amount: $350,000