Preface

The programs listed in this document will assist anyone interested in the field of historic preservation to locate funding and incentives available to qualified historic properties. Some of the programs are incentive based while others rely on a designated funding source, or on a commitment from an overseeing jurisdiction. Certain program funding may be based on annual budgets at the federal, state, or local levels, while others are ongoing programs involving credits or abatements. Programs may also be regulatory or code driven.

This document includes the Worldwide Web addresses for each listed program. Readers are advised to visit the web sites for contact information including address, phone and fax numbers, in-depth background, and for up-to-date information on the listed incentives and programs.
