2010 OHV ANNUAL PASS RECALL

Dear California OHV Park Visitor,

Due to a serious printing error, the blue 2010 OHV Annual Vehicle Day Use Pass hangtag was recalled. We regret the inconvenience this will cause our visitors. Although there will be a slight delay receiving your hangtag, we are currently issuing Annual OHV Day Use Pass Certificates that will be honored exactly like the normal hangtags through April 30, 2009 or until the new passes are available for exchange.

To compensate you for the inconvenience, we will add one additional month to the expiration date of the new pass when you redeem the certificate for the new OHV Annual Pass hangtag once supplies are available.

Display your OHV Annual Vehicle Day Use Pass Certificate face-up on your dash board upon entrance to the park. The same terms and conditions apply to the certificates as to the normal passes. Visit www.parks.ca.gov for more information.

The Pass Certificates will expire on April 30, 2009, but can be redeemed at any Park, Sector or District office that routinely sells the type of pass you purchased once the new passes are available. You may redeem the certificate at a date later than the April 30th expiration date, but the certificate will no longer provide entry after April 30th.

Check park kiosks for notification of availability of the new hangtags. A notification will also be uploaded to the department's website at www.parks.ca.gov once the new passes are available and have been distributed to park locations.

We thank you for your support of California State Parks and apologize for any inconvenience this may cause you.
