CNDDDB Accuracy Class 1: Reported occurrence is a point; location considered accurate to within the minimum mapping unit of 80 meters.

CNDDDB Accuracy Class 2: Reported locations is an area with defined boundaries.

CNDDDB Accuracy Class 3: Reported location is a non-specific area; buffer added to represent degree of uncertainty in reported location.

CNDDDB Accuracy Class 4-10: Reported location considered accurate within radius shown.

Note: The CNDDDB data shown represent only those sightings in the park that have been reported to the CNDDDB. A lack of data for species in specific areas does not indicate absence of species in that area.
