Prehistoric Ohlone trails and late 1800s stage routes followed ridges.

Jackson homestead, 1861 (site).

Mullen goat ranch, early 1860s (site).

Sawmill, 1870s (site).

Quiroste village of Casa Grande (site).

Portolá expedition campsite, 1769.

Steele “back ranch” c. 1868 (site).

Prehistoric archaeological sites. Fragile sites exist throughout Año Nuevo State Park.

Franklin Point shipwrecks, 1865 and 1867.

Lumber wharf, 1864 (site).

Año Nuevo Light Station, 1872 -1948.

Dickerman dairy ranch, 1880. Dairy barn, house, horse barn, creamery, and milk room. Structures are currently used for interpretation and staff residence.

Canyon Falls

Año Nuevo Island

Portola Expedition, 1769. Several ill soldiers recover.

Taylor shingle mill, 1873 (site).

Jackson homestead, 1861 (site).

Mullen goat ranch, early 1860s (site).

Farm manager’s home and flume, 1920.

Mullen goat ranch, early 1860s (site).

Steele “back ranch” c. 1868 (site).

Año Nuevo Light Station, 1872 -1948.

Dickerman dairy ranch, 1880. Dairy barn, house, horse barn, creamery, and milk room. Structures are currently used for interpretation and staff residence.

Año Nuevo Light Station, 1872 -1948.

Dickerman dairy ranch, 1880. Dairy barn, house, horse barn, creamery, and milk room. Structures are currently used for interpretation and staff residence.