“Christmas at the Ranch” Open House To Be Held at Anderson Marsh State Historic Park

As it has done for the past 25 years, the Anderson Marsh Interpretive Association will present an Old-Fashioned Victorian “Christmas at the Ranch” at Anderson Marsh State Historic Park on Saturday, December 13th from 10am to 2pm. The Open House event is free to the public.

AMIA Board Members and volunteers will be available to answer questions about the Ranch House and how Christmas was celebrated in Victorian days. Coffee, hot cider, tea, cookies and other refreshments will be served.

The Christmas tree set up in the Ranch House parlor will have Victorian-style decorations hand-made by local school children, who will visit the Ranch House earlier that week to decorate the tree. Santa Claus will be present at the event for visiting children of all ages.

Singing along is encouraged as local musicians volunteer their time, performing Christmas carols throughout the day.
