

The Women of the Life & Times of William Randolph Hearst

Photos: Wikimedia/Public Domain; CA State Parks

Celebrate Women's History Month at Asilomar State Beach and Conference Grounds, Sunday, March 8, 2015.

12 noon to 2:30 p.m. Enjoy a self-guided 'Passport Tour' of Julia Morgan buildings. Start at California State Parks Desk in the Phoebe Apperson Hearst Social Hall

3:00 to 4:30 p.m. Join Monterey Peninsula playwright, Carol Marquart, and a local cast in the historic Grace Dodge Chapel Auditorium for a staged reading of 'The Women of the Life and Times of William Randolph Hearst' ~ previously part of Monterey Peninsula College's 2014 Gentrain Lecture Series.

Who was William Randolph Hearst?

A builder of castles, a rancher, politician, collector of art, publishing magnate, and Hollywood movie mogul. He was a man to whom women gravitated, and the circle of women who orbited around Hearst included a mother, a wife, and a mistress.

This presentation is a staged reading of dramatic monologues accentuated by a PowerPoint show of historical photographs.

This free event is brought to you by California State Parks and Asilomar Conference Grounds. Please consider supporting our park by partaking of lunch prior to the performance at the Mary Ann Crocker Dining Hall, from Noon-1:00 p.m., or lighter fare at

Event Reservations:
Asilomar State Park Office:
831-646-6443
Asilomar.Interp@parks.ca.gov

Dining Reservations:
Asilomar Conference Grounds
Front Desk: 831-372-8016

Asilomar State Beach and Conference Grounds - a Unit of California State Parks