Dear Kids, Teachers and Chaperones,

* (post in class if you like)

Hooray! You are taking a field trip to your local nature park! It will be so great to get outdoors, right here in the city. With some luck, you may spot some of earth's wild creatures, like hawks and foxes who need places like this to survive. The native plants smell really good, too, and the fresh air will boost your energy. Maybe best of all is the hilltop view of our hometown. We park rangers and staff look forward to having you here. Below are tips to ensure your visit is the best it can be.

- ✓ Bring a refillable water bottle, stay hydrated
- ✓ Wear sneakers or hiking boots
- ✓ Sunburns OUCH!, Wear a hat and sunscreen
- ✓ Dressing in layers helps in changing weather
- ✓ Trash belongs in the cans, not on the trail
- ✓ Stick together with your group at all times

KIDS! Help wildlife by being careful not to hurt even the smallest creature. Animals get sick off of people food, please eat your own lunch. You have a set of written rights, just for kids called the California Children's Outdoor Bill of Rights. Visit some of your other local parks to make sure you can experience all of the following:

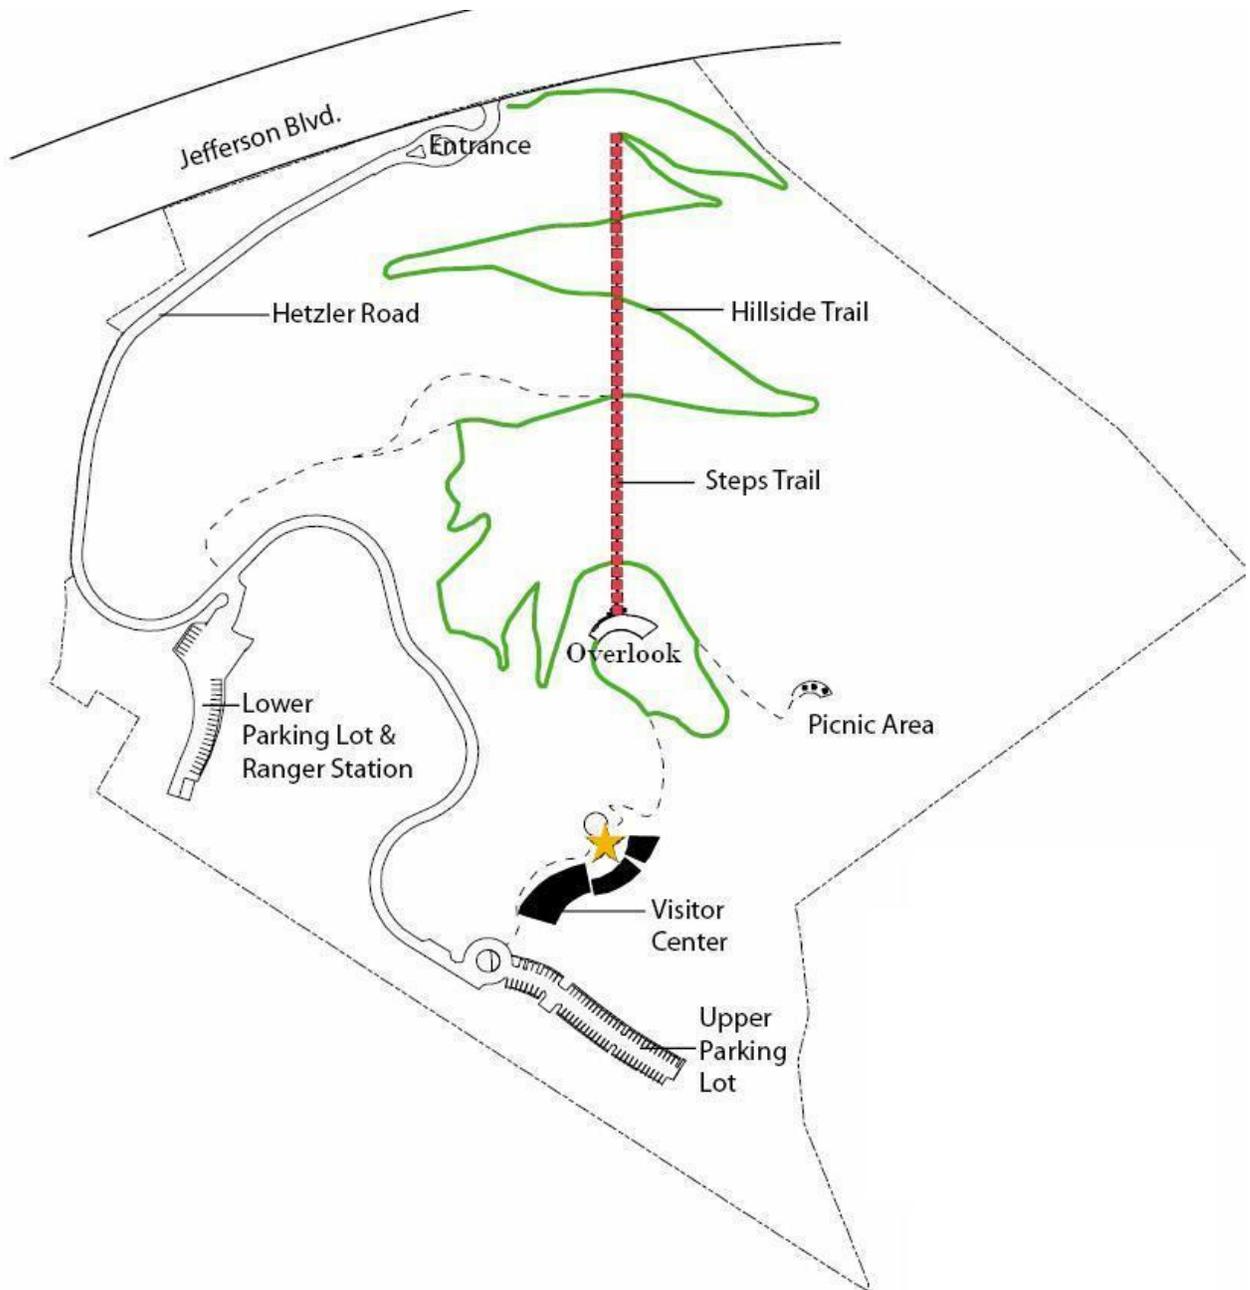

- Discover California's Past
- Splash in the water
- Explore nature
- Play in a safe place
- Camp under the stars
- Learn to swim
- Play on a team
- Follow a trail
- Catch a fish
- Celebrate their heritage

Hi! I am a cactus wren, the mascot of the park. I haven't been seen here since 1995, but with your help I'll return someday.
