SONGS INDEX

The Songs Index lists songs alphabetically by title. These songs were historically used in slideshows at campfire programs to facilitate group sing-alongs by visitors. The first few words of the song are given for better identification, and the number next to the title indicates the total number of slides used for the song. Changes to U.S. Copyright Law have, in some cases, resulted in artists re-asserting copyright protection over materials previously in the public domain. Copyright status should be researched for a particular song prior to its use.
