

Sonoma State Historic Park

January 2018 Events

Happy 2018! The Park is closed on New Year's Day.

“Promoting Our Parks” KSVY 91.3 FM Interview ~ Tuesday, January 2, 9:40am

Listen in as Park Interpretive Specialist Dave shares information about the park's upcoming programs and special events.

Exploring the Seasonal Marshlands of the Park ~ Saturday, January 6, Noon - 3pm

During the wet season a large part of the Park's open space turns to marsh and wetlands. Come out to learn and explore this changing environment. See what different plant and pond life exists in the area. Look for the State Parks truck along the bike path between the Vallejo Home driveway and the ballfields. Suggested: Rain boots or water-proof shoes. This free program runs continuously between noon and 3pm. No reservation required.

CBC4Kids Winter/Christmas Bird Count ~ Saturday, January 13, 9:00am - 1:00pm

Join us in celebrating and estimating the winter birds of the park. Sonoma Birding is sponsoring and leading this fun and educational event. An orientation and brief training are held at the Sonoma Barracks video room and courtyard area along with a surprise birding craft. Kids ages 5-14, with an adult, are encouraged to participate in this free event! More information at:
